Amicus curiae brief to the United States Supreme Court in the case of R.G. & G.R. Harris Funeral Homes, Inc. v. EEOC and Aimee Stephens, a case that addresses the question of whether Title VII's sex discrimination prohibition proscribes discrimination against individuals for being transgender. The brief was submitted on behalf of Law and History Scholars in support of the EEOC and Aimee Stephens, arguing that in order to determine the original public meaning of "because of sex" in Title VII, the Court must focus on the history of how transgender individuals were understood, both in popular culture and in the halls of Congress, when Title VII was passed and amended.
